Dear Parents,

Summer is a wonderful time to read a good book and I hope that the following list proves useful when selecting books for your daughter. Although we ask that your daughter choose three books from this list to read over the summer vacation, she is in no way limited to this list if she chooses to read above and beyond the three books of her choosing.

This year’s list includes books that have been published during 2014-15 and have been placed on the list because they may be award winners, are well reviewed, wonderfully written, and touch upon a multitude of topics. Some titles are chosen because they encourage thought or discussion and other are included for fun and enjoyment. Having stated this, please keep in mind that because the books listed vary in subject matter and in reading level, not all books are going to suit your daughter’s interests or abilities. I would like to encourage you to play an active role in helping your daughter to select the books that she will read over the summer.

Thanks for the support and encouragement that you provide to your daughter as a reader throughout the year.

Have a wonderful summer!
Ms. Kover Lower/Middle School Librarian
kover@chapin.edu